WHO AM I: I am currently pursuing a Bachelors degree in Informatics at Vilnius University. I enjoy learning new things and gaining new programming skills. I am looking for a job in an IT company to apply my current knowledge and to work amongst professionals in the field.

EDUCATION AND EXPERIENCE

2014-2016
Vilniaus Vytauto Didžiojo gimnazija

2017-2018
Vilniaus Universitetas

2018
Ruby Masters

2018
Wok to Walk

I started programming in high school and learned some of the basics of programming in Pascal and C++.

In university I dedicated my time to expand my knowledge in programming, math and other subjects: began learning HTML and CSS, got a lot more comfortable working with C.
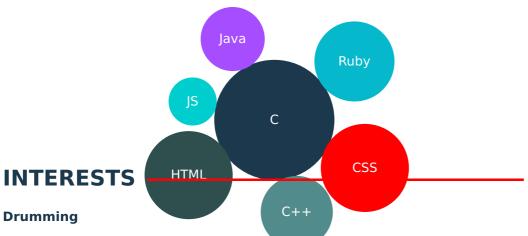

Here I learned many new things and gained valuable experience both with the front end and the back end. I improved my skills with HTML, CSS and Javascript, started using git and learned some Ruby.

Working in "Wok to Walk" I learned to calmly handle stressful situations and to communicate and work well with a team.
